

QUESTION
A 30-year-old male patient with a history of chronic kidney disease (CKD) and hypertension is being treated with lisinopril. The patient reports feeling dizzy and lightheaded, especially when standing up. The nurse should recognize that these symptoms are most likely related to:

ANSWER
A. Orthostatic hypotension
B. Hypertension
C. Dehydration
D. Anemia

QUESTION
A 65-year-old male patient with a history of heart failure is being treated with furosemide. The patient reports feeling dizzy and lightheaded, especially when standing up. The nurse should recognize that these symptoms are most likely related to:

ANSWER
A. Orthostatic hypotension
B. Hypertension
C. Dehydration
D. Anemia

